

PRIVACY POLICY

1. New York Budo Association (NYBA) values and protects your privacy. We thank you for the trust that you place in us and we want you to know that the information you share with us will be kept private. This privacy policy outlines the type of information that is collected by NYBA on our website, how we use and protect it. The policy only applies to NYBA's website.
2. By using our website, you signify that you agree with the terms of our current privacy policy as posted in this area of the site. If you do not agree with the privacy policy do not provide any information personal or otherwise. If you choose not to provide personal information on this site, you may not be able to do certain things, like access particular parts of the site or send us email.
3. NYBA may provide links to third-party websites not controlled or owned by NYBA that we think may be useful or of interest to you. As stated above, this privacy policy does not apply to any information you may provide while on such sites and NYBA is not responsible for the privacy practices employed by such sites. We encourage you to read the privacy policies on those sites before providing any personal information on such sites.
4. Currently, NYBA collects personal information when you make an online donation or dues payment. The data collected during this process is necessary to complete these transactions. No cookies are currently used on our site so browsing information and history is not captured. When a new member joins the school, personal information is also collected primarily to maintain accurate contact as well as emergency contact information. This is collected via our online membership form or when an individual signs up for one of our promotions.
5. Only our chief instructor, board members and officers and certain volunteers specifically working on administrative support will ever have access to your personal information. We will never sell or release your information unless required to by law, legal process and/or by search warrant, subpoena or court order.

6. Finally, while every effort is made to keep information provided over the Internet accurate and up-to-date, NYBA does not certify the authenticity or accuracy of such information. No warranties, express or implied, are provided for the content or records on this website, or for their use or interpretation by you.
7. NYBA, its officers, directors, employees, and agents assume no legal responsibilities for the information or accuracy contained in this data, including any action taken from reliance on any information contained herein and shall have no liability for any damages, losses, costs, or expenses, including, but not limited to attorney's fees, arising from the use or misuse of the information provided herein. Your use thereof shall constitute an agreement by you to release NYBA, its officers, directors, employees and agents from such liability.
8. By using this information, you are stating that the above has been read and that you have full understanding and are in agreement with the contents.
9. NYBA retains the right to video and photograph it's members for promotional usage (to help with our social media and online marketing efforts), however, if an individual does not wish their likeness used they may contact the board members so we can be respectful of the individual's wishes.
